We invited Steve after a personal testimonial from one of our staff who had attended one of his performances at another event. This was for our annual Christmas celebration for an audience of around 145, made up of our company staff and board members.

I found Steve to be very personable and easy to work with in arranging for the event. Our staff responded well to Steve's performance, especially after getting to know him more personally as he went from table to table during lunch demonstrating his expertise with a deck of cards. He is upbeat, constantly on the move, with no breaks once he gets started. His skill combined with his sense of humor make a great combination that was well received by our group.

I would heartily recommend Steve and Magic On The Menu.
